

Study Fully Online

Advanced Diploma in School Leadership and Management

What you will learn

1. Lead and manage teaching and learning effectively in a school setting.
2. Situate the school and its practices within the broader context of the education system.
3. Explore theoretical understanding and practical competencies in the leadership and management of people.
4. Work with and for the community to influence and be influenced by the school.
5. Understand the school as an organisation and manage its systems holistically.

Modules and credits

Leading and Managing Teaching in the School A	13
Working within and for the School System A	12
Leading and Managing People and Change A	12
Working with and for the Community (9 credits)	9
Leading and Managing the School as an Organisation A	9
Leading and managing co-curricular and teaching and learning B	14
Leading and managing the School as an Organisation B	9
Leading and managing people, change and school systems B	12
Professional Portfolio and Workplace Project	30

Admission requirements

- Teachers on post level 2, principals, aspirant principals, and School Management Team members wishing to develop a community of practice in school leadership,and who meet the criteria below, can apply.

- A professional teaching qualification at REQV Level 14 or above
  AND
- At least three years of classroom experience
  AND
- In a school leadership role (school management team/acting position/grade head/subject head/district official)

Overview

Advanced Diploma in School Leadership and Management
This programme was designed for the school principal and the aspirant school principal to develop the skills and knowledge required in the changing world of education.

SAQA ID:
109010

Study duration:
20 months

Module duration:
7 weeks

Modules:
9

Total credits:
120

Estimated time to commit:
12 - 15 hours a week

Fees

To see a breakdown of the fees, please visit our fees page.

Contact

The UJ Online Team
0800 233 723 (toll-free)
enrolments@online.uj.ac.az

The Future.
Reimagined.